

RUSSIAN OBJECT IS CZERNOWITZ

Czar's Forces Striking at Capital of Bukowina.

ASSUME STRONG OFFENSIVE

After Successfully Resisting Energetic Teutonic Efforts to Break Their Lines the Russians Are Making Vigorous Counter Attacks.

Petrograd, Feb. 11.—Developments in the Galician campaign, which for a fortnight, have been mentioned only briefly in the official statements, figure prominently in the latest news. Considerable importance is attached to the occupation of Usciecko, on the Dniester, near the Bukowina frontier, which now is securely in Russian hands.

After successfully resisting energetic efforts of the Teutonic forces to break their lines the Russians have now resumed the offensive. Their object is the capture of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, which, it is thought, would exert powerful influence on Roumania.

Usciecko gives the Russians a new and important line of communication and threatens the position of the Austrians in the region of Czernowitz. Capture of this town is regarded as a decided step in the direction of the Russian goal.

The unusual accuracy and effectiveness of the Russian artillery is mentioned in all accounts of the fighting which is continuing vigorously on the Dniester front. The German advance guards, which have been attempting stubbornly to establish new positions, have been forced back repeatedly, while in the act of digging trenches to their former lines. Notwithstanding their persistent efforts the line is approximately the same as that held by them last October.

TEUTONS TO ATTACK
ALL ARMED VESSELS

Washington, Feb. 11.—Germany and Austria have informally advised the United States government that, beginning March 1, they will launch a vigorous submarine campaign against enemy merchant shipping and that they propose to attack armed ships of this character without warning.

Apprehensive of the consequences of the German and Austrian decision, the United States has forwarded the information to its embassies at the capitals of the entente powers, to be used by them, it is believed, in efforts to get favorable consideration for the identical proposals recently put forth by the American government looking to an agreement for the general disarmament of merchant vessels.

Although no official replies have been received to these proposals the United States has already been given to understand by the British ambassador here that they cannot be agreed to.

TEUTONS REBUILDING SERBIA

Work Indicates Intention to Retain Nation Permanently.

New York, Feb. 11.—The work of the German and Austrian invaders of Serbia in rebuilding structures destroyed by fire and bombardment appears to be of a permanent character, according to Dr. C. M. Cheadle, a Red Cross surgeon of Rockford, Ill., who returned on the French steamship La Touraine.

Buildings of stone and concrete are replacing those razed, Dr. Cheadle said, and Serbian roads, particularly those of military value, are being restored and improved.

The impression he received was that the Teutons were planning to control Serbia permanently.

HOLDING TROUBLE
AT ARM'S LENGTH

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson told the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that America needs a real scientific tariff board and he thinks it will get it; that it needed a real merchant marine and that it was absolutely necessary some beginning should be made at once to get it.

Had it not been for the effectiveness of the federal reserve law as a business preparedness measure, he said, there was no telling what commercial disaster would have overwhelmed the United States with the present war.

Of the prospect for keeping the country at peace, he said that while no immediate international crisis faced the nation, "we merely are holding trouble at arm's length."

WAGE SETTLEMENT IS URGED

Chamber of Commerce Appeals to Railroads and Employes.

Washington, Feb. 11.—A resolution calling on the railroads and their employes to settle their wage controversy by arbitration was adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representing more than seven hundred organizations of business men throughout the country.

The chamber also adopted resolutions calling on congress to investigate and ascertain what industries affected by the war should be developed, and to enact legislation to promote their development.

WILSON APPROVES MEASURE

Endorses Senator Tillman's Armor Plate Bill.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson has endorsed the plan of Senator Tillman to push his armor plate bill to speedy passage as an answer to the threat of private firms that if the government did so they would scrap their plants and raise prices.

As a result Senator Tillman obtained the permission of floor leaders to call his measure up as a special order of business next Monday. He wishes to pass the measure early enough in the session to assure the house a chance to vote on it if it passes the senate.

It will be attacked sharply by Senators Penrose, Lodge and Smith of Illinois as an assault on private property and they will also urge the government plant would be inadequate and that Senator Tillman's bill is a blow at preparedness.

Roumania Reservists Called.

London, Feb. 11.—All Roumanian reservists at Saloniki have been ordered home immediately, according to Athens dispatches received here. A dispatch from Berne, Switzerland, says the Roumanian government has appealed to the people to deposit their gold in the national bank.

SERBIAN TROOPS BEING RE-EQUIPPED.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Less than 20,000 Serbian troops now remain in Albania and these are being transferred as rapidly as possible to the island of Corfu, according to Athens dispatches.

They are being re-equipped at Corfu and made ready for service in the Balkans.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—State Treasurer Walter J. Smith is expected to resign late this afternoon, his friends say, although he still insists that he is guilty of no wrongful act, but that it is difficult to continue in the office under the shadow. Physicians examined Mr. Smith this afternoon and decided he was able to come to the St. Paul city hospital, and he was brought here under the guard of Deputy Sheriff Fenstermacher, who was handed a bench warrant to serve upon Mr. Smith, and the fact that a bench warrant had been issued proves that the grand jury has returned an indictment against him.

LINDBERGH OUT OF RACE

Two Candidates Seek Minnesota Republican Nomination.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—The withdrawal of Representative Charles A. Lindbergh from the gubernatorial race leaves Governor J. A. A. Burnquist and S. G. Iversen the only contestants for the Republican nomination at present.

As often as he has been mentioned in connection with the governorship Julius Schmahel has never said that he was a candidate for the nomination, and he won't say it now. All he will say to friend or foe is that there is plenty of time yet for him to announce. The state primaries will be June 19.

It also became known that District Judge W. L. Constock of Mankato had been picked by party leaders in the Democratic state committee as the "organization" candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor and had consented to run.

CHARGES SECOND
DEGREE FORGERY

Grand Jury Indicts Former Minnesota State Employee.

THREE BILLS KEPT SECRET

It is Alleged That Contents of Documents Are Grand Larceny Charges Against the State Treasurer and That Bench Warrants for His Arrest Have Been Issued.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—Three secret indictments, each charging Walter J. Smith, state treasurer, with first degree grand larceny in connection with the misuse of state trust funds aggregating more than $28,000, were returned by the Ramsey county grand jury, according to a report from an authoritative source.

At the same time the grand jury returned two indictments against R. C. Pickit, former investment clerk in the state auditor's office, charging forgery in the second degree.

The findings were reported to Judge Fred N. Dickson at the end of a three-hour session, at which it is understood only the alleged manipulation of state money was considered.

Pickit was placed formally under arrest in the county jail.

Bench warrants for Mr. Smith's arrest are in the hands of Sheriff John Wagoner, it is understood, and will be served on him in the Galtin institute, Minneapolis, as soon as his condition will permit. It is not expected that the formal arrest will be made for several days, although Mr. Smith is technically in custody.

It was reported that the state treasurer will resign as soon as he is informed of the action of the grand jury. On account of his condition the news was kept from him.

May Tender His Resignation.

Although Mr. Smith has repeated that he does not intend to resign many state officials believe that to tender his resignation to Governor Burnquist would be best for all concerned. A prominent state official said that Mr. Smith should resign and make the declaration that he does not wish to embarrass the state by holding office.

A statement of this kind, the official said, would be greatly to the credit of Mr. Smith should the courts find he is innocent of the charges made against him by the grand jury.

One of the indictments against Pickit charges him with the forgery of the name of "Ed F. Schipansky, treasurer of school district No. 46," on the warrant for $18,000 drawn against the trust funds, May 29, 1915.

The other indictment charges Pickit with forging the name of "O. E. Bjorgaard, treasurer of district No. 58," Pope and Stevens county, on a warrant for $6,000, Aug. 21, 1914.

Two of the reported indictments against State Treasurer Smith are based on the transactions involving Pickit, while the third is on a third cashier's checks from the Merchants National bank were issued to Pickit.

WOMAN'S REALM

Borneo Fashions for Summer Season

By Margaret Mason
Written for the United Press

The ladies, Lord love 'em, this season would faint. Dress just like the beauties in sunny old Spain: And so Yette Goldstein and Mollie McShane And Gretchen Von Schmidt and Pitti Duquesne Are perfect Hispanics when not called by name.

New York, Feb. 11.—Sing Ho for the Spanish main, for anything Spanish is the main thing in the new trend of fashion. Last season we were all to the Chinese and goodness knows where we will be season after next. At the pace they are going it looks as if the designers would soon be sitting around on their haunches and weeping a la Alexander the Great for more worlds to copy.

Personally it strikes me Borneo fashions might be smart for the summer season, but the designers are probably holding them in reserve for the winter months. But to return to Spain: even as a Spanish omelette the fashion designers are undoubtedly being egged on to the Spanish mode by the recent production of that much heralded Spanish opera Goyesca at the Metropolitan Opera House. Incidents in the life of Goya and his paintings inspired the opera, the opera inspired our present fashions and so Mr. Goya is really the responsible party.

Goya was the father of twenty children, one of the most favored lovers of the Duchess of Alba and a great artist. Not for these achievements however is he now known to fame, but as the designer of these feminine frocks and frills for 1916. Quantities of Spanish lace, both white and black, are used in flounces on the new old Spanish gowns which are copied outright from old portraits by Goya and Velasquez. One of the French houses offers a gown which is a replica of that worn by the Infanta in Velasquez' most famous portrait. The gown is dubbed Velasquez and it is wired out over the hips in the same exaggerated manner as the portrait. In fact almost all of the frocks with Hispanic tendencies show this wiring over the hips and the bodices are tight boned and pointed.

Crude, strong tones of yellow, red, green and orange are used to get the true Spanish effects and mantillas, scarfs and sashes of gay hues, high back combs and gaudy fans are accessories after the fact. Stunning evening wraps and negligees are fashioned out of the gorgeously embroidered Spanish shawls and in some instances they are even made into evening gowns verily reeking of Carmen and bull fight.

Indeed all the Spanish fashions are bulky. Considering the shortage of dyes and the fact that all the real blue-blooded señoritas are raven tressed, this is bound to be a closed season for blondes, and peroxide peaches will all stop trying to conceal their dark pasts.

With our characteristic whole souled manner of entering entirely into the spirit and atmosphere of a new mode I have no doubt that even our diet will now smack of the Spanish tendency toward onions, omelettes, mackerel and sweet peppers. Our foxtrots and one steps will give way to the fandango, our national sport becoming throwing the bull and our Irene Castle go around looking like a castle in Spain.

"Preseverance Class"

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

Prohibition Hits
Capitol's Angel Cake

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Washington man who keeps bay rum for his hair and the housewife who puts vanilla in the angel cake are both likely to be visited by the Metropolitan police if Senator Sheppard's prohibition bill for the District of Columbia becomes a law.

The bill now before the senate is regarded by dry authorities as the most thorough, comprehensive, iron bound, steel riveted lid ever devised. The residents of the district have no vote or say as to whether they wish to venture upon so complete a drought. It's all up to congress.

The bill not only prohibits the manufacture, sale or giving away of liquor, but it provides that the mere possession of liquor shall be deemed sufficient evidence to convict a person of selling it.

Search of any premises may be made upon an informal complaint. Discovery of liquor on the premises will void the lease and give the owner the right to eject the occupant. Common carriers are prohibited from bringing alcoholic beverages into the district. Any scheme or device to evade the law shall be regarded the same as the sale of liquor. The keeper of liquor may be retained as a common nuisance, according to the proposed regulation.

Five wholesale druggists only are to be allowed to sell wood, grain or denatured alcohol. Anyone buying it must make an affidavit that he is twenty-one, not of intemperate habits and not addicted to the use of narcotic drugs.

To obtain wine for sacramental purposes priests and ministers are required to make application to the District Commissioners, specifying for what sacramental purposes the wine is necessary, and how long the quantity applied for will last.

The commissioners, before granting a permit, which will cost 25c, must satisfy themselves that the facts are correct. Such wine will then be allowed to be imported, but must be delivered at the church between 6 in the morning and 5 in the evening.

The sale of any liquor containing more than one half of one percent of alcohol is forbidden and subject to all the other restrictions of the bill. This is understood to include perfumery, flavoring extracts, proprietary medicines, prescriptions and similar preparations containing more than this amount of alcohol.

They are all highly paid workers, some of them, the diamond setters, earning as high as $100 a week in busy periods, and the question of pay does not enter into the present trouble. The strike call affects about 200 shops and 2,500 employees. In some of the shops a demand is made for the abolition of the piece work system.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustre almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, severely and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

"PULLING TOGETHER"

Editor Dispatch:—

That's what I believe in. Not merely people having similar pecuniary or business interests as the farmers pulling together by themselves, the dealers by themselves, the manufacturers, mining and railroad people, and the different classes of wage-earners in their several groups, and each pulling their own way. We have had this kind of pulling together a plenty in the recent past. And where have we got by it?

Shouldn't the experience of the past suffice? Doesn't it appeal to every one that real progress is determined by the "resultant of forces" and not by the swaying back and forth of opposing forces?

As I understand the animus of this new Chamber of Commerce movement it is founded on the belief that the real interests of all the people in the different industrial and professional occupations are mutual; that the commercial, professional and intellectual occupations are as dependent on the industrial, as the industrial is upon them, and this is equally true as between the city or village and the country respectively tributary. If my understanding is not correct I hope to be corrected.

If I am correct then is the slogan "Let us all pull together" appropriate and consistent, but it must include not only the business men and farmers, but the wage-earners as well, for as the commission of industrial relations puts it, "The interests of the producing farmer and the wage-earner are identical."

Well, then, "Let us all pull together." Which way? The city man will naturally say "For a Better Brainerd." The range town man "For Better facilities for ore production and better villages," the farmer "For better crops and marketing conditions," the wage-earner "For better wages." Is it possible that these apparently varied interests are mutual? Is there any one point or direction in which all could join and pull together and yet attain the various desired goals? Yes. Which? For better wages.

In its broad sense this is a fundamental condition of progress, and is really the aim and ambition of each and every group in society. To pull together in this line—to see that all those engaged in the primary processes of production received wages in equal proportion to services rendered as those in the secondary or higher processes would create conditions out of which all the before mentioned ends would spring as by natural growth. Society is not a mechanical structure formed by human contrivance. It is a thing of life. It's development and improvement is more the work of the gardener than of the carpenter or blacksmith. It is preparing conditions.

How to raise wages? An old question but as yet unsolved in practice in the greater part of our civilization. Has the right point of view been taken. Have past efforts been made in the community spirit? There must be a way—there is a way, if we would but seek the law of social justice.

One of the ways of raising wages is being put through in Europe and has been for the last year and a half. That is the way of special privilege, who lives and luxuriates on the wages of others; and the trend of things in our own country points to possibilities of our taking similar steps.

The Chamber of Commerce is in a position to do a great good work in leading or making opportunities for a genuine getting together and pulling together of the entire community. But some will need to try and forget the thought and break off the habit of saying to those who differ from them, "Oh, but you don't understand it." The trouble is, and that is what has really kept us apart in the past, some of us, both farmers and shopmen or other wage-earners, understand some features of things only too well. That is no argument. We must be mutually willing to hear and consider any and every view on questions of public affairs. Only thus can there be any "pulling together" worth the name.

Four Explosions to Fire One Bomb

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Greece, Jan. 1 (By Mail)—German trench bombs fired from rifles, unloaded by ally army experts here show these rifle bombs to be the most intricate of all bombs so far used in the great war. Four separate explosions are required to fire a bomb. The explosion of the rifle sends the bomb perhaps 200 yards, where it alights on its nose exploding a percussion cap, which lights a brass cap filled with gun cotton, which also explodes and causes half a pound of gun cotton in the main body of the bomb to be exploded. The bomb weighs only a pound, is no more deadly than most other trench bombs and costs perhaps ten dollars.

Athens, Greece, Jan. 1 (By Mail)—At last the warriors have got down to using clubs; just ordinary clubs, for braining men. The Austro-German soldiers are supplied with bludgeons and on parts of the British front the ally soldiers have been furnished clubs covered with spikes. These British clubs look much like the Big Stick American cartoonists used to picture T. R. using. The clubs are for use by troops entering trenches on the sly and slaying noiselessly so that men in other parts of the trench don't know what is going on.

One of the newest missiles in the great war is a huge shell the Germans threw at the Dardanelles. Only air guns could throw the shell without exploding it, and these new air guns must be ten inches in bore and many feet long. One of these big shells which fell in the British line unexploded has been taken apart by experts. It was ten inches in diameter and fifteen inches high, made of sheet metal with wooden plug-disks at each end. This big steel can contained seventy-six pieces of scrap iron and twenty-five pounds of trinitro-toluol. The missile weighed 51 pounds. The firing of the big shell must have been touchy work. Imagine a fire cracker ten inches thick, that would blow a hole in the earth six feet deep and ten feet in diameter. Imagine yourself facing the duty of lighting the fuse on this fifty-one pound cracker and then, while the fuse was sputtering, placing the cracker in the mouth of a giant air gun and firing the gun in time to get the cracker out of your neighborhood before it went off.

Most hand bombs don't go off by contact. They must be lighted first and then thrown. Sometimes the lighting is done with a match or a cigaret; other times by pulling a little string which rubs two strips of sulphur together somewhere in the handle of the bomb. Both sides in the great war have bombs of various sorts for various needs. If the enemy is oncoming, for instance, you must have a bomb that will explode quickly; if you're rushing toward him you need a bomb that you can throw far ahead and that will have done its job by the time you reach the scene.

The French have the fastest hand-bomb known. The thrower wears a leather thong on his wrist and a hook on this thong is attached to a hook on the bomb. The act of throwing lights the fuse, which is so short and so quick burning that the explosion is almost immediate.

The slowest bomb, perhaps, is the Serbian. It is shaped like a pocket whiskey flask, neck, stopper and all and is of iron and brass. The thrower unscrews the brass top, hits a firing pin on a stone or the butt of his rifle and then, after a space of seven seconds throws it. The bomb throbs in the man's hand just before it is due to explode, giving him warning. If he throws the bomb too soon the other fellow may pick it up and throw it back at him. Bomb experts figure that any soldier can pick up a lighted hand bomb and throw it away from himself if he has five seconds to spare.

HUGHES WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

Republicans Must Nominate
Some One Else.

JUSTICE REPEATS REFUSAL

Wide Range of Speculation Is Opened, as Many Men of Presidential Caliber Have Equal Chances of Getting the Nomination—Fight Will Be an Interesting One.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 10.—[Special].—Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes will not accept the nomination for president if it is tendered him by the Republican national convention. This is going to be made so plain before the convention assemblies that no one will be talking of Hughes as a possibility at that time. Hughes will not be considered any more than he was in 1912. Of course there are many admirers of Mr. Hughes who will demand a more authoritative statement than this concerning his attitude. I do not know how or when such a statement will be made, but it will be of such a character as to bear out the assertion that the justice has meant everything he has said previously regarding the nomination for the presidency. The Republicans must go elsewhere than to the supreme court for a candidate.

Makes Greater Speculation.

Most Republicans have come to regard Hughes as a sheet anchor. He was the man to whom they all turned as a last resort. "We can win with Hughes" has been the assertion of every Republican, although no one was personally anxious to have Hughes nominated. With Hughes out the question arises, "Who is the man?" This opens up a wide vista of speculation. There are many possibilities, many aspirants, many men who are willing. You can't go half a block where you meet Republican politicians and mention names without finding opposition to every man who has yet been proposed.

It is an open field, and almost any man who is of presidential size has a chance, and some of those who are not of presidential size will be among those mentioned.

Right of Misgovernment.

Some good ideas were sent adrift during the discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate. One of them is contained in the short speech of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts when he said: "There is the view that a people have a right to misgovern themselves in their own way. It may be misgovernment according to our ideas, but they have a right to misgovern themselves in their own way. I quite accede to that theory. I think we have a right to misgovern ourselves, and we occasionally do so quite badly."

Senator Lodge did not believe in granting the Philippines independence, but he believed that no halfway measures should be taken.

Traveling Expense Graft.

Minority Leader Mann took a shot at the traveling expense graft which has been found in different departments. It is doubtful whether anything will be done about it. All administrations, all parties, everybody who could possibly do so, has used the traveling expense allowances to their advantage.

After Fraudulent Advertising.

In several instances efforts are being made to prevent fraudulent advertising. One good way, which would be effective, would be to add a paragraph to the postoffice appropriation bill denying second class mail privileges to papers which carry fraudulent advertising. Many publishers refuse to accept fraudulent advertising now, and all would have to do so if the mails were to be denied them.

Uncle Joe In Action.

I really believe that members of congress and the occupants of the galleries would rather see Uncle Joe Cannon in action than to listen to what he says. His left arm is still the principal feature of the exhibition. Save for just a little touch of age he does not differ much from the Cannon of twenty-five years ago.

Why Be Consistent?

Of course the fellow who insists upon being consistent is sure to be caught out on a limb some day. And so why criticize those suffragists who are writing to Senator Wadsworth of New York? Mrs. Wadsworth is one of the vigorous anti and appears in every movement against suffrage. The senator gets letters from suffragists asking him why he does not exercise control over his wife and compel her to stop fighting suffrage.

Clark For Flood Control.

Speaker Clark took the initiative in having a committee to look after flood control legislation in the house. He believes that by control of the floods in this country immense damages can be averted, that real conservation can be established and that in the end there will be reclaimed immense tracts of overflooded lands which can be occupied by people seeking homes. Clark favored the irrigation bill many years ago because he thought it would lead to flood control. That it has not done so is because the vast scheme of controlling waters has not been applied to the head waters of the streams tributary to the Mississippi.

NEW SERIES 17

The new Studebaker models sum up all the resources of the great Studebaker manufacturing organization—experience, efficient capability, unlimited factory equipment—and this means the last word in automobile designing, materials and workmanship.

Refinements have been incorporated in the new models and they now stand supreme as typical exemplars of the highest achievement of one of the world's great manufacturers of motor cars.

Owing to enormously increased volume and the unrivaled manufacturing facilities that Studebaker possesses, the prices are remarkably low for cars of such quality. But it is always to be remembered that Studebaker price is never a measure of Studebaker quality—that it has always been Studebaker policy to produce the highest grade possible without regard to price—that such low prices are possible only by reason of Studebaker leadership and superiority in equipment.

FEE IN POTATOES

Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney Relates Some of the Tribulations in a Minister's Life

"I remember very well one fee I received for performing the marriage ceremony," said Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, as he was telling experiences while in conversation with his friend P. J. Oberst and others.

"I pronounced the words which made the couple man and wife and the bridegroom said 'Thank you.'"

"The young man explained that he was unable to pay any fee, but that he would remember me handsomely within a short time, and sure enough, in a month or so he came to the parsonage with two bushels of potatoes."

In relating the story Father O'Mahoney said he wanted no one to consider for a moment that the fee received had established a precedent.

CUYUNA RANGE IS VERY BUSY

Mines in Shape to Ship 5,000,000 Tons of Ore This Year, Says John H. Hill

IRON TON MAN IS OPTIMISTIC

Big Properties Being Stripped and Much Drilling Being Done, Says The Duluth Herald

John H. Hill of Ironton, Cuyuna iron range, and his family are at the Hotel St. Louis, Duluth, says the Duluth Herald, en route to San Antonio, Tex., where they will spend the remainder of the winter. Mr. Hill said this afternoon that more mining and more development work are being prosecuted on the range than at any time since its discovery and that the Cuyuna open pits and underground mines will be in shape to ship more than 5,000,000 tons of ore this year, a large percentage of which will be manganiferous.

"Most of the drilling is on the north range, extending from the east end of Little Rabbit lake to the west end of Little Rabbit lake," said Mr. Hill. "Men are scarce and mining operators do not yet know where they are going to get all of the men who will be needed with the end of winter."

"Stripping operations are being completed on the Mahanomen and Hill Crest pits adjoining Ironton and the great Cuyuna-Sultana property also at Ironton, is to be stripped, operations to begin almost immediately. Ironton will then have six open pit mines, the others being the Pennington, Thompson and Armour No. 2. Another big open pit, the Rowe, is at Riverton, four miles away.

"Underground mines at or near Ironton which will ship this season are the Ironton mine in Ironton; Armour No. 2, at Ironton; the Meacham, Croft and Cuyuna-Mille Laes close by, the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, and the Iron Mountain mine five miles away. Other shipping underground mines will be the Adams, near Deerwood; the Wilcox mine, at Woodrow, six miles from Brainerd, and the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in Brainerd. All of the mines aforementioned are on the north range except the Adams, Wilcox and Brainerd-Cuyuna."

Mr. Hill is the founder of Ironton, owning two-thirds of the townsite and two-thirds of the ore underneath. Ironton is only four years old and has a population of about 1,500. It has all city improvements, two banks, a $50,000 hotel and is building a $100,000 high school.

DR. L. G. HERBERT

Will Give Fifth Entertainment of Lyceum Course Under Baraca Class Auspices

The fifth number of the Lyceum course given by the Midland Lyceum Bureau of Des Moines, Ia., will be held in Camels hall Tuesday evening February 15th, being a lecture by Dr. L. G. Herbert. Dr. Herbert has three lectures to choose from, being "A Man Among Men," "The Crisis and the Call" and "Cash, Conscience and Country." The bureau has the following to say of Dr. Herbert:

"Dr. L. G. Herbert is, in a large sense, one of the ablest men on the American platform. All his life he has been a student, an observer, a thinker. Now, in his prime, he has seen life from all angles. He has studied the perplexing problems of our complex life with tolerance, earnestness and persistency.

His acquaintance with men and things is wide. He has studied 'Big Business.' He understands the business man's point of view, and respects it. He has studied the great labor question, and respects the contentions of the laboring man. He visited Homestead while a very young man, and studied, at first hand, that great strike. He has been in Chicago, New York, Paterson, Calumet, Butte, Colorado, West Virginia and many other places where Labor and Capital were crossing swords, and looked conditions squarely in the face. He has come out of it all with a firm conviction of the perpetuity of American ideals in government.

Dr. Herbert's management recommends no man on their list more highly. He has a message. Whether in the hamlet, the village or the city, Dr. Herbert's lectures grip, entertain, fascinate, and the people remember them for years. He is naturally witty—there is nothing forced about him—he is as natural a man as one will ever find. He has lectured thousands of times. He has spoken in every state in the Union, and from Halifax on the east to Vancouver on the west, in the Dominion. His language is pure, his diction superb, his earnestness infectious.

Real Estate of Railroads

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 11—State public utilities commissioners are going to establish a Lookout Bureau at Washington to keep close watch on developments in the valuations placed on railroads by the interstate commerce commission.

Commissioners of state public service commissions in attendance at the interstate commerce commission's hearing are sponsors for the lookout bureau. After presenting their arguments to the commission as to the method of conducting valuation proceedings, the commissioners expressed fear that methods unfavorable to them will be used.

One fear of the state commissioners is that the real estate of railroads, terminals and rights of way, will be appraised at condemnation value. This would make a difference of $5,000,000,000 over the valuations as made by state commissions.

Some of the commissioners in attendance at the valuation hearings express fear that the interstate commerce commission is hazy on the subject of valuation. Only two members, they allege, have had experience in valuation cases. They are Mr. Meyer and Mr. Daniels; and Daniels, the commissioners say, has had experience mostly with public utilities rather than railroads.

If the high valuation that would be made by following the carriers' theories is adopted by the interstate commerce commission, the state officials say government ownership would be the only thing and the most economic thing to resort to them. Appeal has been made to certain senators by commissioners. Senator Cummings was called into conference and asked to lead a possible fight.

Charles A. Prouty, former member of the Interstate commission, is head of the valuation division which prepared the data for the commission to inaugurate its hearings upon. If the state commissioners do not have their way in determining methods of valuing, they threaten to seek abolition of the valuation division or to ask that its appropriation be cut off.

If the valuation is made the railroads' way, allowing market or condemnation value, the carriers naturally would be given credit for higher assets than under the original cost or physical valuation method of the state bodies. In the instance of terminal and right-of-way property there would be a large appreciation in values since the land was acquired. The state commissioners say that little attention has been paid by the interstate commission to the original cost idea of the proposition because of the difficulty of determining original cost or original values. Do you know that there are listed over 1,000 diseases of the human body with fancy names?

Do you know that there are over 10,000 different drugs used to cure those diseases?

Do you know that if the modern "medicine man" diagnoses your case correctly, which is true in only about 25 per cent of cases by the average physician, he is at a loss to know which of those 10,000 drugs to use?

Do you know that daily our modern medicine man is finding new diseases and drugs to take the place of those that were new yesterday and heralded as a step forward by medical practice?

Do you know that very few theories of the modern medicine men are based upon scientific facts which can be proven?

Do you know that for twenty years Chiropractic has stood the test? In all this time, they have not had occasion to change their theory of the cause of disease. Some call us robbers. Probably we are. But we rob you of your aches and pains. BUT YOU WANT THE BEST. Call on us and compare our methods with others if you are not getting results. Spinal analysis and consultation free.
